2 p.m. - Wonderful Worlds with Dr. Bill Thierfelder: My Life As A Turkey

Natural History Series - Dr. Thierfelder is a docent at the American Museum of Natural History. Based on a true story, this beautiful, charming, funny, sad, and thought-provoking film explores one of those rare moments when man and animal unwittingly become more closely linked than nature normally allows. Deep in the wilds of Florida, Joe Hutto, wildlife artist and naturalist, was presented with a rare opportunity. It had long been his hope to learn about the secret world of wild turkeys by having young turkey poults imprint on him, but obtaining wild turkey eggs, or young poults, had proven to be next to impossible; so when he arrived home one day to find a bowl filled with wild turkey eggs on his doorstep, he went out immediately to obtain an incubator, determined to become their mother. It was an experience that would change his life in ways he could never have imagined. Location: Community Room

2 p.m. - Museum Highlights with Ines Powell: Gian Lorenzo Bernini

Gian Lorenzo Bernini (1598-1680) was the leading Italian sculptor of the 17th century and a most important architect as well. Bernini was born in Naples, but he moved with his family to Rome at the age of seven. He was a child prodigy, trained by his father in sculpture and completing his first bust by the age of ten. Bernini was a very prolific artist whose art flourished in Rome under the patronage of popes and cardinals. His numerous sculptural and architectural projects reveal innovative trends that opened the path for dramatic and eloquent vocabulary of the Baroque style. His naturalistic sculptured pieces are characterized by their dynamic drama, tension and particular attention to textural effects. Location: Community Room 3 - 6 p.m. - Friends of the Library Board Meeting

Location: 2nd Floor Conference Room

Wednesday, Nov. 4

2 p.m. - Hollywood Music & Dance with Dr. Kolb: Jeanette Mac Donald & Nelson Eddy

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy had separate and significant careers before and after uniting for a series of 8 MGM musicals, including Naughty Marietta (1935), Rose Marie (1936), Maytime (1937), The Girl of the Golden West (1938), Sweethearts (1938), New Moon (1940), Bitter Sweet (1940), and I Married an Angel (1942). Both Eddy and MacDonald had extensive careers as a baritone and soprano, singing on stage, in radio, and film. Both singers had voices that included a capacity to sing opera, which they also did. After their eight successful films they made several efforts to continue the partnership, but none of them worked out. Each singer had significant success in their separate films, both before and after their partnership. Location: Community Room
