With January now a memory, we head into the second month of the New Year with thoughts of Super Bowl parties, chocolate hearts and naturally, new movies galore. New adventures on the big screen await.

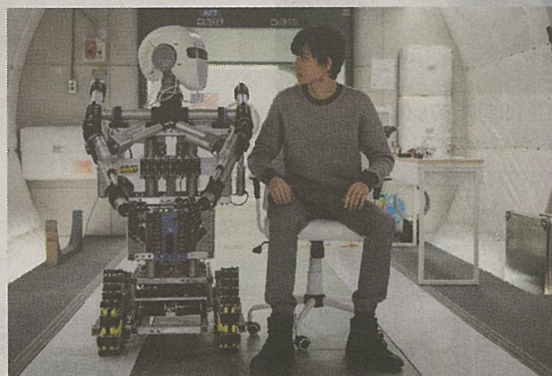

The LEGO Batman Movie (PG)

Batman is back. The LEGO Batman Movie debuts Feb. 10. This computer animated superhero movie is directed by Chris McKay and features the voices of Will Arnett, Jenny Slate, Ralph Fiennes, Zach Galifianakis, Rosario Dawson, Michael Cera and Mariah Carey. It is a spin-off of The Lego Movie from 2014 that focuses on Batman and his quest to learn more about himself and others while trying to save Gotham City. Amazing graphics bring these LEGO creatures to life.

The Space Between Us (PG-13)

Opening on Feb. 3, The Space Between Us is a sci-fi/romance/drama sure to intrigue all ages. Peter Chelsom directs stars Britt Robertson, Asa Butterfield, Janet Montgomery, Carla Gugino and Gary Oldman. The movie begins as a shuttle is sent off to Mars where humans will attempt to inhabit and explore the planet. However, after takeoff, one of the spacemen realizes she is pregnant. Now on Mars, she gives birth to a boy, the first human born on a planet other than Earth, and dies from child birth, never revealing who the father is. The movie tracks the boy, Gardner Elliot, as he becomes a gifted 16-year-old who wants to uncover the identity of his father, allowing him to come to Earth and experience everything he has ever imagined.

Grab your popcorn and snacks and head to the movies this February.
