Psychology fair winners honored by town council

Town of North Hempstead Supervisor Judi Bosworth and the Town Board welcomed six North Hempstead high school students to Town Hall in Manhasset prior to the March 10 Town Board meeting, to recognize them for winning high honors at the Long Island Psychology Fair on January 8 at Roslyn High School.

The competition featured more than 70 Long Island students who conducted and presented their research in a formal presentation to an audience of peers and expert judges.

Winners included Nicholas Furci, Nathan Yang, Tiffany Sun, and Jessica Futoran of Roslyn High School, Elizabeth Muratore of Schreiber High School, and Jacob Mathai of Great Neck South High School.

Childcare training workshop to be offered

The Great Neck/Manhasset Community Child Care Partnership, Inc. will be hosting its spring educational evening for early childhood educators/childcare providers on Wednesday, April 22, from 6 to 8:30 p.m. at All Saints Church, Huske Hall.

This training workshop, facilitated by Stephanie Dockweiler and Camille Lachar-Lofaro of QS2 Training & Consulting, is geared towards early childhood educators/childcare providers seeking to complete training requirements outlined by New York State Office of Children and Family Services.

The evening is free of charge for partnering members of GNMCCCP and includes a light supper. Non-members will be asked to pay a nominal fee of $15 per person. Subject matter presented will focus on Intentional Teaching and Nature Topics.

"All early childhood educators should be purposeful and effective in their teaching strategies and should have an active role in the learning process," said Francine Medaglia, director of the Great Neck/Manhasset Community Child Care Partnership, Inc. "This includes making intentional decisions surrounding the implementation of the best strategies for teaching young children. GNMCCCP is pleased that QS2 Training and Consulting will be providing our local early childhood educators/childcare providers with important information on how to accomplish their teaching objectives and are appreciative to all of our supporters who have made this program possible."

For more information on how to attend this event or our fall educational evening for early childhood educators/childcare providers, call (516) 504-0150 or email to info@gnmcccp.org.

To download an invitation with registration form, visit gnmcccp.org. Registration for this event is open until April 3.

PATV joins coalition in fighting substance abuse

PATV Teen TV is focusing on health with the new program "Prevention Through Connection" with Manhasset Coalition Against Substance Abuse.

Cathy Samuels, Manhasset CASA project director, interviews Don Hooton, president of the Taylor Hooton Foundation with the focus on giving information on spotting and treating substance abuse issues in young adults.

PATV Teen TV participants asked questions of them both on this subject to provide additional information for the viewing audience.

This new program will cablecast on March 27, at 9:30 p.m., and March 29, at 7 p.m. on PATV Channels 20 (Cablevision), and Channel 37 (Verizon) and will be streamed at www.patv.org on those dates and times.
