Author Susan Jane Gilman

The Sisterhood of Temple Judea hosts noted author, Susan Jane Gilman, as guest speaker at 7:30 p.m. Gilman, a New York Times bestselling author of three books, will discuss her debut novel, The Ice Cream Queen of Orchard Street. It is a compelling immigrant story that follows Lillian Dunkle, a conniving and profane millionaire ice cream maker who, with her Jewish family, immigrated to the Lower East Side as a child and toiled for every penny she earned. It is an entertaining, charming and wickedly funny book. This program is being cosponsored by the Sid Jacobson JCC Edward and Bernice Wenger Center for the Arts and the Jewish Book Council. Open to the community. Admission is $10 and ice cream will be served. Gilman's book may be purchased through Temple Judea for $25. Please make checks payable to Sisterhood of WRJ. RSVP the temple office at 516-621-8049 or templeoffice@temple-judea.com.

Please email Calendar items two weeks in advance of this paper's Friday publication date to ejohnson@antonmediagroup.com.
