Museum Highlights
Art Historian Ines Powell will speak on René Magritte. The Treachery of Images at The Centre Pompidou. The Centre Pompidou has organized a magnificent exhibition of the works of the Belgian surrealist René Magritte (1898-1967). The exhibition focuses on the reinterpretation of the works of the artist in the light of his five recurring motifs: fire, shadows, curtains, words and the fragmented body. The retrospective brings together Magritte's most iconic paintings along with antiques illustrations depicting mythological narratives of the invention and definition of painting. 2 p.m. at Manhasset Public Library 30 Onderdonk Ave.
